Updates for Awesome People Like You!

Dear My Favorite Subscriber,

I saw you the other day, but you seemed busy so I didn't want to interrupt you and say hi.

But then I thought, oh dang, maybe you saw me and were wondering why I didn't say hi so then I thought maybe I should say hi.

But then I thought, there's probably a better chance that you didn't see me than there was the chance you did. So I thought I probably shouldn't actually say anything after all.

I don't want to alienate my favorite subscriber, after all! You are pretty much the reason this whole newsletter exists.

So then I thought OK, I'll just mention it in the next newsletter.

No worries, right?

But then I got home and realized the next newsletter doesn't go out for a few weeks and if I sent it early, then that would be weird, too.

So worries, right?

People say "no worries" when things are OK. But no one says "worries" when things aren't OK. I've been trying to make that a thing, but no one seems to be understanding me. I'm just causing confusion.

Worries.

I'm going to keep trying, apparently.

Enough about me. Thanks for being my favorite subscriber! You are such a good listener. Have I told you that lately?

I mean, here I am - supposed to be writing about event updates - and there you are listening to me go on about how your awesomeness makes me such a bundle of nerves.

Your superior logic, no doubt, understands that what I'm saying makes no sense and I appreciate that. And your tight grasp of the human condition makes you empathetic and accepting of the fact that these newsletters tend to be 80% introduction and 20% content.

But remember this: Everyone thinks you are 100% awesome. And that's what this is all about, really.

And speaking of non sequiturs:

The Austin Events 2019 Calendar is pretty much done for the year. If you haven't bought one, better call one of the local stores or Amazon very soon.

Well, probably not Amazon. I don't think they have a phone.

If you have already purchased one - THANK YOU. That helps me pay for all the electrons required to create this email.

You are the best! Mike
