Updates For Awesome People Like You!

Dear My Favorite Subscriber,

It's time for your bimonthly reminder of how awesome you are.

Not that you need reminded of anything. Because part of being awesome means you have an awesome memory.

Have I mentioned that you have an awesome memory? Those of us who aren't you have memories that sometimes forget things that your memory would not forget.

Forgive me if I'm repeating myself: You're awesome.

You're awesome.

See what I did there? Of course you did, you notice things like that. Because you're awesome.

This newsletter would be nothing without you, my favorite subscriber.

Not just because you are my only subscriber.

I would write this newsletter to you even if you weren't my only subscriber and I had no subscribers at all.

Indeed, for many years before you gave me the joy and privilege of writing to you every two months, I was writing emails that I wished I could send to you but couldn't since you had not signed up for them yet.

I realize that seems complicated and perhaps a bit impossible.

But nothing is impossible when it concerns someone as awesome as you!

(Note: Saying "as awesome as you" seems a little weird because I know there is no one as awesome as you. You are the only person as awesome as you.)

Those of us that think you're awesome (which is to say, everyone who has ever existed), can also do the impossible when we know we are doing it for you, my favorite subscriber.

Speaking of impossible, it seems impossibly long since we were able to do many of the fun things in Austin. Things are starting to get back (at least a little) to normal as the covid cases thankfully continue to decrease.

Since you are always on top of things, I'm sure you already purchased the Austin Events 2021 Wall Calendar so are ready for the fun.

But if you have some friends that could really use some fun right about now, maybe they would appreciate one.

Even just to enjoy finding the armadillos hidden in each photo.

At this point the only place you can get the Austin Events 2021 Wall Calendar is Amazon where 39 reviews average 4.5 stars!

When they run out there, they are gone.

Here's your Austin Events 2021 Wall Calendar Updates!

Thank you for the support of my local business.

May 2021 - Calendar Updates

The 2021 Austin Weird Homes Tour is May 15th. This year it will be virtual, but it's going to be awesome!

Austin's punniest show in town, the O. Henry Pun-Off, has a tentative date: Saturday, May 8. Location is still in flux so keep an eye on the new website for details.

This spring's Pecan Street Festival will be online, offering classes and performances galore Saturday and Sunday, May 1-2. In the fall, it plans to return as a traditional street fair. Those dates are September 18-19.

Also postponed is the 49th Kerrville Folk Festival, which is now planned for October 1-10 at Quiet Valley Ranch. No need to wait that long for great folk music, though. Tune in for the virtual Kerrville's Grassy Hill New Folk Competition May 22-23 at 7:00 p.m.

Hot Luck Food Fest will be back in a different way this year. More details to come on its website.

June 2021 - Calendar Updates

ATX Television Festival has added six more days to its run, it'll now be held Friday, June 11 through Sunday, June 20.

Cancelled for the second year in a row, Oblivion Access Fest is rescheduled for May 12-15, 2022, per its Facebook page. Check there for ticket info.

101+ Weird and Unique Austin Things

As some of you know, I have a blog about IRL Experience Design and I also have another business called The Eureka Room.

I recently added a page to the site you might find useful. It's called "101+ Weird and Unique Things To Do In Austin".

It is the most comprehensive list of this type on the internet. If you like it, please share it with friends.
