Updates for Awesome People Like You!

Dear My Favorite Subscriber,

You are the most awesomest person on my email list.

And I'm not just saying that because you are the only one. Even if I had 10 times as many subscribers, you would still be my favorite.

What have you been up to this summer?

Did you like what you did? Did you go on a trip? Did you go somewhere nice? Mediocre?

Did you forget your cell phone charger? Did your phone die? Did you really need GPS?

Did you get lost?

Did you find yourself eating stale Cheetos and drinking cheap beer in a parking lot in a town I'd never heard of?

Did I fall asleep in the car then wake up in a sweaty mess with a police officer knocking on the window?

Did I ask him if he had a cell phone charger?

Was he the kind of public servant that doesn't carry cell phone chargers or like Cheetos and just wants you to leave his town?

Was that OK because you wanted to go back to Austin because it's so much better here than that stupid parking lot, anyways?

Well, if that's the case - welcome back!

If that's not the case, then you probably had a better vacation than I did.

But any vacation away from you, my favorite subscriber, is hardly a vacation.

I'm so glad we're back doing this - me helping you realize how incredible you are and how much you are appreciated for reading these newsletters (and perhaps, occasionally buying a couple dozen wall calendars, no pressure).

Here are your Austin Events 2018 Wall Calendar updates for September and October.

You are the best!
Mike
